Charlestown High School

Class of 2019

CHS VISION

To be critical thinkers and bold leaders

Message from your Principal

Dear Class of 2019,

I am so proud of all of you. During your time here at Charlestown High School, you've made tremendous growth, both personally and academically. I've been impressed by your talents, passions, intelligence, and ability to take on new challenges. I've also been impressed by how you've created so much school spirit and truly fostered a sense of community across our school.

School spirit and school community are two important aspects that allow us to make CHS a place where everyone feels welcome and where all students can flourish. Through events like our Pep Rallies, Talent Shows, Heritage Month Celebrations, sporting activities, and other performances, you've been able to show-off all that CHS can be. But it's not only these special, specific days that are important. On a daily basis, we've worked together to be a positive, welcoming, and celebratory place, where students can be their true selves. The Class of 2019 has shown itself through so much artistic, athletic, and academic accomplishments--from the CHS Advanced Band to the AP Calculus Club to the Cheerleading Team, there's a lot to celebrate. There's our Debate Team, our Lunar New Year Celebration, our College Days, and our Boys and Girls Groups and so much more. I know I'm fond of our Spirit Weeks, when everyone gets dressed up and gets to show-off their CHS pride. Let's go, C-Town!

As you go forward in your lives, into college and into your careers, I hope you'll bring this sense of spirit and community with you. Along with everything you've learned, I hope you value just how important spirit and community are to creating welcoming environments and to living your best life. Even though there will be obstacles and challenges in your future, by embracing diversity, celebrating each other, and setting high expectations for yourself, I know you'll be able to succeed.

I'm especially proud of the Class of 2019 because this marks the first graduating cohort of students in our Technology Pathway. Who knew that when some of you started here as 9th graders you'd end up graduating with college credit and a unique skillset that will help you be successful? Seeing you grow during your time here, by asking difficult questions, advocating for yourselves, and working to create a more just world, I am truly impressed.

While graduating from high school is the conclusion of one journey, it's also the start of a new journey that will carry you forward into the rest of your lives.

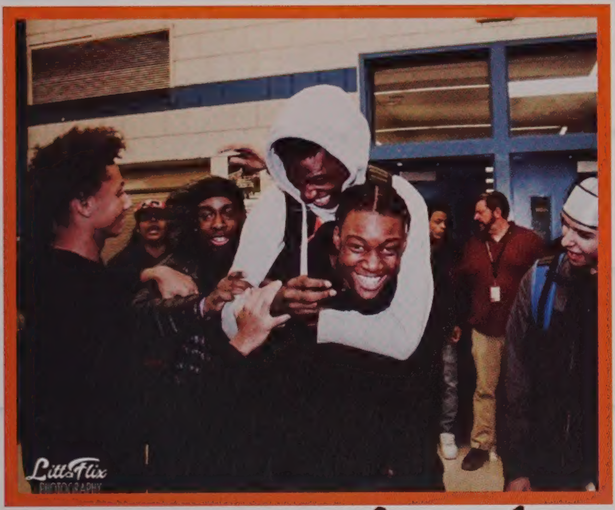
Stop scrolling for just a moment. Pause, and list 3 things for which you're most grateful.

Its okay to be scared, but you have to get out there, open up, love, make mistakes, learn, be stronger, and start all over again.

Choose happiness today by taking life moment by moment, complaining less, and being thankful for the little things that mean a lot.



Appreciate where you are in your journey, even if it's not where you want to be. Every season serves a purpose.

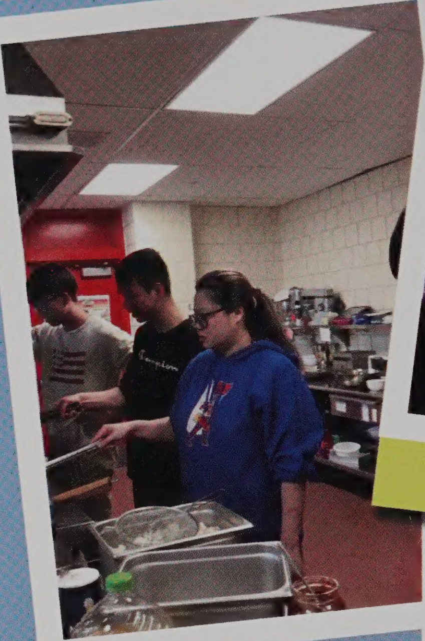
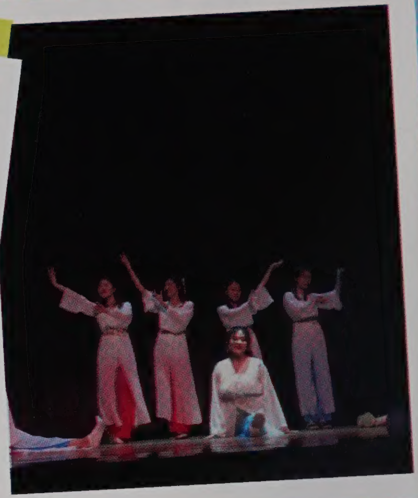
CHINESE NEW YEAR CELEBRATION

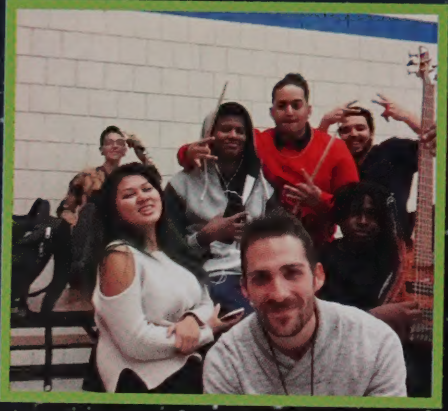




CHS CLUBS & activities

"The CHS Drama Guild spent another year developing an original play. This year's offering, Permutations, written by seniors Maysa Mooltrey and Tashina Taylor offered an intense look into the lives of young people struggling with their self-image. The play premiered at the State Drama Festival, where Tashina and Maysa both won awards for Excellence in Acting. Also performing were Nya Bellevue, Kevin Le, Lawrence Mooltrey, Naleona Lester, and Isyss Weston. Sophia Sanchez handled the lights and Angie Gomez managed the sound effects. All the students involved had fun, made friends, and supported the arts at CHS!"

Charlestown had a great Debate season, spending the year focused on US immigration policy. Freshmen Abdel Sahdala and Elena Menjivar attended all six tournaments, moving from the novice division to varsity by the end of the school year. Junior Tyerohn Coleman, debating mostly by himself, was the true standout. He won the City Championships in March, a feat never before accomplished by the CHS debate team, earning a spot to compete at the national tournament in Washington, D.C



after SCHOOL BAND

CHS LGBTQ+ is a school-wide organization that supports and celebrates students who are Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer, Questioning, and more, as well as students who identify as Allies. Meeting weekly during lunch, this group fosters fun and a sense of community. Everyone is welcome! This past year, we've gone on field trips; talked about the complexities of our identities; and discussed relationships, representation, and which song you'd lip-sync to for a $100,000 college scholarship.

The Alpha Esquires is a youth development group. The group objectives are to involve the young men in programs in leadership development training, career awareness, community involvement, educational planning, communication skills and social awareness. The group goals are for each Alpha Esquire to strive for scholastic excellence and the development of good leadership skills that maintain focus towards their life goals.

WORDS OF WISDOM

Life has lots of ups and downs. Hopefully for you life has many more ups than downs. My advice that I give to you is, put everything into what you do, find your passion and follow it, never quit anything on a bad day, find joy in small things, and know that you are never alone. - Mr. Terkla

Stay Woke - Ortega

When you meet people who you respect or who have the type of life you want, ask them for advice.- Mr. Lee

Don't try to be perfect- it's exhausting! Just try to be the best version of you & continue to grow!- Ms. Soucy

Explore. Your phone does not have the answers- Mr. Frost

Life after high school is an incredibly exciting, invigorating, challenging, and adventurous time, when you'll learn a lot more about your self and what you want to be. Try something totally new! Also, learn to cook at least one tasty meal, so it can be your signature dish. - Alex K

Before you move on to the next stage of life, whether it's the military or college or a trade, write down your favorite things about yourself and the things you want to work on going forward. - Ms. Vargas

Remember that you are a smart, strong, and beautiful person. You have done amazing things in the past, and nothing can change that. You also have the power and knowledge to be successful in the future, so don't let anyone or anything make you question that. Find your people wherever you go and support each other because life is tough, but it's also so so wonderful. - Ms. McCarthy

In high school my counselors said I shouldn't even apply to college because my grades were so bad but I was too stubborn and I never let others define what I could and couldn't do. Did those words sting and hurt? Yes, but I didn't allow the words to stop me from moving forward to keep trying. I failed many times but I was too stubborn to quit and I went on to become successful in school. Success in life isn't about doing things once and getting it right once. Success is about having the maturity to know when to move forward, when to rest, and when to do it again despite the setbacks. Success also requires skills so develop your mind and body so that when the opportunity presents itself you are in a position to take advantage of it. Be stubborn, be hungry to learn, and rest! - Alvin Lee, PhD

Don't ever think your progress isn't good enough because baby steps are still steps. It's better than not doing anything at all. Keep going! You didn't come this far just to come this far. - Ms. Silver

The difference between an expert and a novice is that the expert has failed more times than the novice has even tried. So keep on trying when you encounter difficulties, and surely you will succeed. You can do it! - Ms. Piacitelli

Stay focused! Remember life is a marathon, not a sprint! - Derek Wright

"You are worth it" - Ms. Santos

"What you feed, grows." What are you feeding with your money, resources, free time, brainpower? Are those the things you want growing in your life? - Dr. Ng

Be yourself--Your identity and what you stand for is always important regardless of what others think and say.You are Dope, Lit, and Dripping in Finesse! No dream is too big or too small. Dream, make a plan, set goals, believe in yourself, work hard, and manifest all your greatness and potential. Even when life gets hard, and it will be--never give up! You come first, but never forget about your community--your people! Navigate the world self aware , critically conscious, and with all the fierceness--Always lead with love and respect! Always do what makes YOU happy. Everything isn't for everybody! Never be afraid to reach out to people you can trust when you need support getting by in anything! Congratulations on graduating--this is the small step! Now get out there and leap past those big ones; lead; smash goals; make a difference; and WIN. WIN BIG! Much luv! - Mx. Thai

Take classes that are actually of interest to you. You are paying for your education so you might as well get what you actually want to learn out of it. Also join various clubs, especially if you go to a community college, joining a club or a team can help you have more of a "campus" experience and increases the likelihood that you will be more committed to your school and successfully complete your classes. Hang out with people that know how to study. My first year of college I really struggled to study but then I started hanging out with a group of folks that knew how to study and that really helped me get through. Lastly, once you are done studying and working hard then you can party. Partying is your reward for working hard not a regular hobby you should indulge in too much. :) Good luck love nuggets! - Ms. Mooltrey

Don't put-off for tomorrow what you can do today.- Mr. Pina

Good Better Best
Never Let It Rest
Until Your Good Is Better
And Your Better Is Best
- Dr. Harris

Do not give up on your goals once you are faced with challenges , Albert Einstein said: "In the middle of difficulty lies opportunity." - Dr. Benaoui

Take care of yourself physically, mentally, emotionally, socially, first and foremost-- if you are feeling overwhelmed, make sure you have eaten something healthy recently and that you have slept. If not, take care of these needs right awat! With something in your belly and a decent sleep, you will likely regain some perspective, and everything that feels overwhelming will feel a little less so. - Ms. Koehler

"There is nothing good or bad but thinking makes it so"- William Shakespeare. Learn to harness the power of perspective; so much of what happens in this world we can't control or choose, but we CAN choose how we think about it, and how we respond to it. - Mr. Johnson
